THE "CALL TO UNIONISTS."

In the recently published "Call to Unionists," after setting out the conditions of the present situation in Ireland, and calling upon all Unionists to stand by their allegiance to the Legislature, the one and only road to peace and prosperity for the country, and security for the Union, the conclusion was summarized as follows:

(1) Enforcement of law with firmness, justice, and impartiality.
(2) Enforcement of the natural resources of Ireland, and promotion of commerce, industry, and agriculture.
(3) Completion of Land Purchase.
(4) Equality of justice for Ireland in the West, in common with England, Wales, and Scotland, the Dominions beyond the Seas, and the Allied Countries.

(5) In any extension of local self-government, the treatment of Ireland on the same basis as every other part of the United Kingdom; in other words, Federal Land Government, administered impartially throughout the United Kingdom.

The necessity for speaking out NOW arises from the fact that the question of Home Rule will be dealt with in the coming session of the British Parliament, and the Unionist position is now being defined.

WHAT IS THE CALL TO UNIONISTS? It is a call to all Unionists to stand by their allegiance to the Legislature, the one and only road to peace and prosperity for the country, and security for the Union, the conclusion was summarized as follows:

"A Curious Procedure."

What Mr. Drury, with ample justice, described as "a disorderly procedure," on the part of the Irish Executive was discussed in the Dublin Southern Police Court yesterday.

Mr. Drury had before him a case against Mr. Drury, a Dublin resident, who had been charged with a breach of the peace, and who had been found guilty by the jury.

The case was heard in the Dublin Southern Police Court yesterday, and the jury found Mr. Drury guilty of a breach of the peace.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON, TUESDAY NIGHT.

Sir Douglas Haig's first communiqué to-day indicated that the enemy had not yet advanced their position upon the front. The fall during the past few days, however, should not be regarded as an indication that the Germans are weary, for the attack made on another part of the western front, and the Allies will have all their work cut out to keep the German border back.

That the enemy's casualties have been very heavy is quite obvious from the nature of their advance. Nevertheless, it would be a mistake to suppose that the enemy would be stopped in their advance. It is certain that the enemy will be stopped in their advance.
